

Software Developer

ConneXon Telecom - Montreal, Canada Area

Job Description

Connexion Telecom, the leader in Voice over IP 9-1-1 emergency solutions for enterprises, is looking for a highly motivated individual to work as a Software Developer on IP Telephony Application.

The candidate will participate in the design and development of new and existing applications using the Scrum development methodology.

Task:

- In an Agile environment, work with the team to improve the range of functionalities of existing products as well as developing innovative new products.
- Design and develop software components (both backend and web portal) for Linux-based system in the IP Telephony domain
- Unit test the software developed
- Troubleshoot and maintain products released

Desired Skills & Experience

- Java, PHP5, MySql, JQuery, JavaScript, HTML, XML, CSS
- Familiar with application-to-application communication interfaces utilizing web services architecture (XML, SOAP, and WSDL)
- MySQL and/or MS SQL Server 2000, 2005 and experience in database design and development
- Good French and English written and verbal communication skills.

Assets:

A candidate will have one or more of the following desirable qualifications:

- Experience in the datacom/telecom industry
- Knowledge of SIP/H323
- Development experience on Asterisk code base and AGI scripts
- Basic Linux administration and Networking knowledge
- Experience with Ruby on Rails

We are looking for someone who is highly motivated, energetic and resourceful. The ideal candidate is organized, detail oriented, and has the ability to work efficiently in a team environment.

All candidates are required to submit their CV with a cover letter.

Company Description

Founded in 2005, Connexion Telecom provides emergency 9-1-1 services to enterprises with IP telephony systems, mainly located in the United States. This market is rapidly growing, creating an enormous demand for suitable emergency services. We have consistently increased our customer base over the previous five years and have over 1,000 organizations currently using our services. For additional information regarding Connexion, please visit <http://www.911enable.com>

Connexion Telecom is the recipient winner of Deloitte's Technology Fast 50 for 2013. Join our team of dynamic professionals and enjoy a wide-array of exciting and challenging projects, employee benefits and plenty of additional perks.